Who this program serves

Families already educating at home; internationally mobile families; students needing an individual pace; athletes and artists; and families seeking Christian education with structured academic follow-up.

Placement and the individual plan

Placement follows the curriculum pathway: A.C.E., LIFEPAAC, Christian Light or Chanak Flex. Valid prior assessment is considered to avoid unnecessary duplication. The PEI records the starting point, curriculum, materials, subject goals, workload and support needs.

Core USA, Local Extension and Life Skills

Core USA includes English, mathematics, science and social studies as required by the individual plan. Local Extension maintains the student's language, history, geography and cultural connection. Life Skills develops character, responsibility, leadership and practical skills.

A routine based on mastery

Set realistic daily goals, work through units, check understanding, correct errors and submit evidence. Chanak's mastery threshold is 80%; reinforcement and reassessment follow when necessary. Scores are individual records, not automatic credit conversions.

Parent and mentor responsibilities

Parents organize a suitable study space and routine, supervise honest work, maintain communication and provide evidence. Mentors guide the plan, review progress and evaluate learning. The school maintains the academic record and required documentation.

Age and stage

Elementary builds foundations and routines. Middle grades strengthen independence and subject mastery. High school uses a reviewed credit plan with graduation guidance. Workload is individualized rather than defined by a single schedule for every student.

Records and documents

Report cards summarize registered period grades. The high school transcript records courses, credits and grades. A diploma is issued once Chanak's graduation requirements are met. Apostille or translation can be arranged where needed; recognition rests with the receiving authority.
